PRE-MEDIA

From design to delivery, Pre-media is where your digital visions are refined for electronic delivery, or transformed into a physical product. To do this, CRW employs a multi-layered security model, advanced software and computer hardware with integrated redundancy, which allows us to act as a “cloud provider” for our clients and efficiently produce your work.

Work Stations & Graphics Software

CRW Graphics maintains networked Macintosh and Windows computers for processing client files, custom composition, and disk intervention. Our sophisticated retouching and image enhancement are the finest in the industry. CRW has a streamlined PDF workflow. Files are processed using a combination of Heidelberg Prinect PrintReady full PDF workflow with two Meta Dimension RIPs and Xerox Freeflow workflow management software.

PRINTING

Operated by artisan press crews with over 20 average years of experience, CRW’s digital and offset presses are tuned and calibrated to accurately and consistently produce your most critical work. Attention to detail and craftsmanship combined with environmentally friendly inks, curing, and coatings bring your ideas to life.

FINISHING

Great printing requires great finishing. At CRW we have a broad range of in-house capabilities, complemented with approved outside bindery partners. The end result is that we can provide the finishing that your most creative work requires. This allows us to complete a wide array of projects, from basic stationery and business cards, to packaging and complex kitted products. In addition, tight integration with our digital and Mail Shop capabilities lets us streamline the use of variable data and postal optimization, saving both time and money.

DELIVERY

CRW Graphics’ dependable, full-service Mail Shop gets your printed pieces into the hands of your target audience at the most economical postal rates. Starting with a postal preflight done by a team of Certified Postal Designers, we check every job CRW prints that is destined to be mailed for conformance to postal specifications. We then procure and/or postal sort your mailing lists. Finally, we process conventional direct mail, Every Door Direct Mail, or bulk package shipments to get your messages and packages delivered on time, every time.

WEB & DATA SERVICES

In today’s fast-paced digital environment, having a complete software development, automation, and communications framework in place is required to meet the demands of variable data and versioned production, distribution, and response measurement and analysis. CRW Graphics maintains an extensive set of software tools and a web-based framework beyond those associated with graphics to efficiently provide data handling and extensive online services. Our utilities and cloud-based services include:

- Microsoft SQL Server for database operations
- MySQL Open source SQL for compatibility
- Autodesk AutoCAD for three dimensional or engineered products
- Microsoft Visual Studio for .NET development
- Secure FTP with automated “push” or “pull” capabilities for data communications
- Jasper and Crystal Report for custom reporting
- The Vault® Digital Asset Management System
- Workspaces web-to-print platform

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

Our team of dedicated programmers and graphic specialists solve the problems that you and your clients face when trying to tie up all the loose ends. Our diverse Professional Service offerings can streamline your processes well beyond ink-on-paper, ensuring a consistent message across various platforms. CRW’s patented web-based ordering and fulfillment services help to decentralize purchasing while maintaining centralized content and budgetary control. Bring your challenges to us for cost-effective and time-saving solutions.
